Holiday magic, family fun, community celebration

The sounds of Christmas carols, the excitement of visiting Santa Claus and the glow of holiday lights will fill downtown Huntington on Saturday, November 28, as the community gathers for the annual Christmas in the City celebration. Organized by the Huntington County Chamber of Commerce, this beloved holiday tradition invites families to experience an afternoon and evening filled with festive activities, downtown shopping, entertainment and special Christmas memories.

With free activities for children and families throughout downtown, Christmas in the City offers something for everyone. Festivities will take place from 3 to 5:30 p.m. with the afternoon beginning early at the Huntington County History and Education Center, 315 Court Street, where children can decorate Christmas cookies from 1 to 3 p.m. Families can also have their pictures taken with Snoopy before heading downtown to enjoy the day's activities.

Children will once again have the opportunity to visit with Santa and Mrs. Claus during this year's Christmas in the City. The beloved holiday couple will join the festivities at Rotary Centennial Park to help illuminate the city's Christmas tree. The tree-lighting ceremony will take place at 6 p.m., marking a special moment to kick off the Christmas season and bring holiday cheer to the community.

One of the highlights of Christmas in the City is the opportunity for children to meet some of their favorite holiday characters. Santa Claus will welcome children in the beautifully decorated Courthouse rotunda from 3 to 5:30 p.m. where they can share their Christmas wishes and have their pictures taken free of charge by Frederick's Photography. Local DJ Pat Teusch will provide festive Christmas music throughout the afternoon. Families are encouraged to arrive early to allow plenty of time for their Santa visit.

Holiday characters will be found throughout downtown including Cindy Lou Who at Bend the Trend Boutique & Décor, elves at The Party Shop and Buddy the Elf and Jovie at Gracefully Gourmet. The Grinch, Anna and Kristoff will also be making appearances, giving children plenty of opportunities for memorable holiday photos.

Families can enjoy riding a pony-drawn cart with Cakepop, a small pony driven by Tim Hadaway. Children can also enjoy games and face painting at the 5th Parlour, train rides at the Lake City Bank Train Station and Christmas ornament-making activities at the Huntington Art Center.

The Huntington Art Center, located at 32 East Franklin Street, will also feature story time with volunteers from Beacon Credit Union and free popcorn provided by the Faith Community Church Youth Group. Also downtown, visitors can enjoy a live nativity scene provided by Huntington First Brethren Church, while Boy Scout Troop #130 will host a fire pit on East Washington Street where families can roast marshmallows and make s'mores.

Additional photo opportunities will be available throughout downtown, including character cutouts, inflatables, Santa's Sleigh near the Courthouse and Gingerbread and Olaf photo boards at Rotary Centennial Park.

Children will have the opportunity to write and send their Christmas wishes to Santa through a special mailbox located inside the Meal Ministry in the third block of downtown. Lake City Bank will provide free hot chocolate and cookies at the Meal Ministry, making it a perfect place to take a break and enjoy a holiday treat.

Letters may be written at the event or brought from home. After Christmas in the City, letters may also be delivered to the Huntington City-Township Public Library or mailed to City Services, 634 Webster Street, Huntington, IN 46750. Letters can also be emailed to Shanon Spaulding at the City of Huntington at shanon.spaulding-@huntington.in.us. All letters must be received by December 12, and each child's letter must include their name and mailing address to receive a reply from Santa.

Carolers from the Huntington Theatre Guild Act II will share the sounds of the season throughout downtown, while Aiden Richardson and his instrumental group will add to the festive atmosphere with live music.

Returning this year is the popular Walk of Trees, an opportunity for downtown businesses to showcase their creativity and spread holiday cheer throughout the community. Beginning November 28, participating businesses will display decorated Christmas trees featuring a variety of themes.

Community members are invited to visit the participating businesses, admire the displays and complete a Walk of Trees entry form for a chance to win a downtown prize package. Visitors can also vote for their favorite business-decorated trees with prizes awarded to the top three. The Walk of Trees will continue through December 12, providing another reason to shop local and enjoy the holiday spirit throughout downtown Huntington.

As the afternoon festivities draw to a close, the excitement will build at Rotary Centennial Park for the arrival of Santa and Mrs. Claus and the annual Christmas tree lighting celebration.

Beginning at 5:40 p.m., the grand finale will feature a festive light parade with decorated HARTA bicyclists, members of the local Jeep Club and police vehicles leading up to Santa and Mrs. Claus arriving on a fire truck. Glow sticks will be distributed at Rotary Centennial Park to help welcome the holiday visitors.

The evening will culminate with the Christmas tree lighting ceremony at 6 p.m. featuring a spectacular display of holiday lights and musical entertainment. Visitors can tune their radios to 87.9 FM to enjoy Christmas music during the celebration.

Christmas in the City is more than a day of holiday activities. It is an opportunity for families, friends and neighbors to come together, support local businesses and celebrate the spirit of the season in the heart of Huntington. Downtown shops and restaurants will be open, inviting visitors to browse, dine and experience the hospitality of the local business community while enjoying the festivities.

The Huntington County Chamber of Commerce is proud to recognize the sponsors who make possible this annual event: Beacon Credit Union, First Federal Savings Bank, Habitat for Humanity of GFW, Lake City Bank, Partners 1st Federal Credit Union, Public Service Credit Union and Smith Furniture.

Mark your calendars for Saturday, November 28, bring the family and make plans to spend the day downtown. From cookie decorating and holiday characters, Christmas carols and the magical glow of the community Christmas tree, Christmas in the City promises a wonderful celebration filled with joy, tradition and memories to last a lifetime.

Rolling Thunder Truck Wash cuts the ribbon

Rolling Thunder Truck Wash celebrated its opening with a Huntington County Chamber of Commerce ribbon cutting on Monday, October 19. Located at 454 W. Markle Road in Huntington, the business provides specialized washing services for semi-trucks, trailers and other large vehicles.

Rolling Thunder Truck Wash is owned and operated by Dan Boggs, who also owns Dan's Service & Repair Inc.

The truck wash specializes in cleaning semi-trucks and trailers, asphalt and concrete trucks, van trailer washouts, dually trucks, recreational vehicles (RVs) and campers. The business also offers exterior washing for livestock trailers and can accommodate passenger cars upon request.

"This truck wash helps those looking to have their big rigs or pieces of equipment cleaned because the nearest place is in Fort Wayne," Boggs said. "Taking your vehicles to Fort Wayne will cost you time, employee pay and then waiting in line for a couple of hours or more to get your truck or larger piece of equipment cleaned."

Rolling Thunder Truck Wash is committed to providing quality cleaning services with several features designed to protect vehicles and equipment. The facility hand washes all vehicles and uses no recycled water and offers acid-free washing. Additional services include optional shield wax, aluminum brightening and a blow-dry finish as vehicles exit the wash.

By bringing specialized truck-washing services to Huntington, Rolling Thunder Truck Wash offers local trucking companies, businesses, farmers and individual vehicle owners a more convenient way to maintain the appearance and cleanliness of their vehicles and equipment.

For more information about services, contact Rolling Thunder Truck Wash at (260) 530-7119 or visit them on Facebook.

COMMUNITY SCHOOLS

"Principal for the Day": A Great Experience

By Steve Kimmel

I would like to extend my sincere gratitude to Superintendent Chuck Brimbury, Huntington North High School Principal Russ Degitz, Learning Center Principal Tiffanney Drummond and the Huntington County Community Schools for the honor of serving as "Principal for the Day" at Huntington North High School on Thursday, October 15.

After spending time at Huntington North High School and the Learning Center, I came away with a renewed appreciation for the quality of education our students are receiving. If you have ever wondered whether your children and grandchildren are receiving a strong education within our school corporation, I can confidently reassure you that they are. Our students are benefiting from an outstanding educational experience that prepares them for future success.

Everywhere we went, I saw dedicated teachers who were enthusiastic about teaching and committed to helping students learn and grow.

During my visit, we toured classrooms, the planetarium, science labs, athletic facilities, and many other areas that showcase the opportunities available to students.

Everywhere we went, I saw dedicated teachers who were enthusiastic about teaching and committed to helping students learn and grow. Huntington North and the Learning Center offers an impressive variety of programs, resources and educational opportunities that help students develop the knowledge and skills they need to succeed beyond high school.

Equally impressive was the attitude of the students. I was greeted with friendly "hellos" throughout the buildings, and the students we encountered were consistently polite, respectful and welcoming. These interactions reflected positively on the school and the values being encouraged within the buildings.

Most importantly, my time at Huntington North and the Learning Center gave me confidence that our students are in good hands. It was clear that the administrators, teachers and staff take their responsibilities seriously and are genuinely invested in the success of the young people entrusted to their care. The dedication I witnessed, combined with the educational opportunities available, reinforced my belief that our school corporation is working hard to provide students with the education and support they deserve.

I am truly grateful to Superintendent Brimbury, Principal Degitz, Principal Drummond, and the Huntington County Community Schools for welcoming me into their buildings and allowing me to experience firsthand the outstanding work being done every day. Thank you for this meaningful opportunity and for your continued commitment to educating and preparing the next generation of leaders in our community.
